

WAYNE CHUMBLEY

VISION PERFORMANCE LAB MANAGER

Wayne Chumbley has nearly 20 years of experience in driving innovation in eyewear and goggle development at Oakley. Through extensive product performance testing -- both in the field and in a lab environment -- Chumbley has solved problems for athletes and consumers of all levels, delivering game changing products and Prizm technologies.

Chumbley brings his personal passion for sports to work each day and incorporates it into Oakley's testing and development.

*"Prizm is a tool to maximize your natural color vision.
I live in Southern California and rely on Prizm Daily to pull color contrast from the dry, brown environment."*
